Academy Names Arlington Doctor

An Arlington doctor has been elected to the New York Academy of Sciences for his outstanding work toward the advancement of science, it was announced this week.

He is Dr. Endre A. Balazs of 240 Pleasant street. Natives of Hungary, Dr. and Mrs. Balazs have lived in Arlington for seven years. They became United States citizens about a year ago.

Dr. Balazs is a member of the Harvard University faculty. He is on the staff of the Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary.

Mrs. Balazs has a studio for modern gymnastics. The couple has two children, Mary Anne, 7, and Andre, 1.

Improvement League To Hear Town Clerk

James J. Golden, town clerk of Arlington, will be the guest speaker at the regular monthly meeting of the Improvement League of Arlington at 8 p. m. on Wednesday Jan. 8, at the Dallin Branch Library, on Park ave. Golden will discuss the duties of his office which include among other things preparation of town reports, records of town meetings, work on elections and recording of papers which affect the interests of the town.

Members and guests, town meeting members and all others who are interested in learning more about Arlington's town government may attend.

The Improvement League of Arlington is nonpartisan and membership is open to all interested citizens of the town.

Arlington greeted the New Year quietly.

According to Police Chief Albert E. Ryan, Tuesday night was the best observance here in two years.

The Town was accident free. No drunken drivers were arrested. No complaints of loud parties were recorded at headquarters. In brief everything was serene.

Hundreds of house parties welcomed the New Year here. All were orderly. Most of the guests contented themselves with watching the wild celebration in Times Square on television.

Only incidents to mar the record were the thefts of two 1958 automobile registration stickers from parked cars.

In both cases, police said the stickers were peeled from the windshields.

Enlargement Planned By Gordon Furniture

A large-scale expansion project which will double the display room at Gordon's Furniture, 399 Massachusetts ave., began Tuesday.

Louis Gordon of the prominent furniture firm, announced this week that the old Peatfield House will be torn down and a basement will be built from the current location on Massachusetts ave. across to Broadway.

Provisions will be made to build another floor on top of this area but at present, the entire street level area will be used for parking for 40 to 50 cars.

Gordon's currently has about 5,000 square feet of floor space. The expansion will bring display floor space to about 10,000 square feet.

PATROLMEN Henry E. Bradley, Bernard O'Quinn, and Richard F. Shea will attend the Massachusetts State Police Training School this year.

Taking of Russell Common Again Discussed By Board

First '58 Baby Born To Milton St. Couple

Arlington's first 1958 baby was born at the Cambridge City Hospital's Cahill House at exactly 2:39 a.m. New Year's Day.

She is Sandra Lee Tavilla, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest B. Tavilla of 35 Milton st.

Sandra Lee who weighed in at eight pounds, six ounces, was also the first baby born in Cambridge in 1958.

Mr. and Mrs. Tavilla have two other daughters, Stella, 3, and Susan, 1.

Polio 'Dimes Cards' Mailed To Residents

Arlington's 1958 March of Dimes opened Thursday.

Robert Mahoney, Arlington chairman, said that Dimes Cards will be in the mail this week.

The annual Mother's March will be held again this year, Mahoney said.

More than $11,000 was spent on 28 Arlington polio cases in 1957, he said.

A total of $7,000 was spent on one patient alone.

Last year, $13,000 was raised by Arlington to aid polio patients here.

Mahoney said that Clarence Marsh has been named treasurer of this year's campaign.

The taking of the Russell Common by eminent domain, defeated at the Special Town Meeting in November, came up again this week at a meeting of the Board of Selectmen.

George A. Harris moved that the Board insert another article in the warrant of the Annual Town Meeting to take the Common.

On a move by Selectman Franklin W. Hurd, the matter was tabled.

Hurd said yesterday that he is not opposed to the taking but wants to discuss the matter further.

"I question whether or not the Board should insert this article," he said.

"The voice of the Town Meeting has been heard and just recently. Although there was some talk that the Town Meeting Members did not know what they were doing on the article, I think the Members were voting intelligently.

"But I wonder if it is not up to the Arlington Development Commission to decide whether such an article should be inserted rather than the Selectmen."

Harris in moving to insert the article said that in his opinion many Town Meeting Members were absent at the time the taking was defeated. He then asked that the article be reinserted.

Selectman Joseph P. Greeley seconded the motion.

At this point Hurd said he thought the matter should be brought in by the Development Commission.

Marcus L. Sorensen agreed with Hurd. Sorensen also said that he wondered if another defeated article, asking for a change in the controversial 127 vote ruling, should not also be brought in again.

This matter was dropped as the discussion on the taking continued.

AHS Five Bows To Cantab Quintet

The Arlington high school basketball team was handed its first Suburban League defeat Monday night, losing to a scrappy Cambridge Latin five 75-89.

The AHS point total was its season's high but it wasn't enough to beat the Cantabs. Spearheading the Cantab attack was guard Tony Geneene who hit for 31 points on 15 baskets and a free throw. Geneene was sensational to say the least, compiling a fantastic average from the floor.

Using an unstoppable jump shot from outside the key, Geneene hit for 14 buckets out of seventeen attempts. Although the Red and Gray scored 17 points in the opening period, they still were down by seven going into the second stanza.

In the second frame, Arlington netted 19 points only to have the Cantabs again chalk up 24 to take a 12 point lead at the half.

In the action packed third period, Arlington finally outscored CHLS, 20-12 to shave the lead to six points.

Capt. Jay Donovan and guard Bob Mattola scored seven points apiece in the third period surge.

Numerous fouls were called during the second half. Three Cantabs fouled out and Mattola and Bill Scully had four fouls each.

Just when it appeared that AHS had the Cambridge entry on the run, the local attack turned cold. In the first five minutes of the fourth period the Lowdermen scored only two points.

Latin suddenly began to jell again and opened the lead to 17 points.

An 11 point rally by the locals in the last three minutes wasn't enough and that was the ball game.

Capt. Jay Donovan again led the Arlington scorers with 16 points, followed by Scully with 14, Mattola with 12 and Carl Lind with 10.

Red and Gray Jottings

Marilyn McLaughlin

Christmas vacation has come and past us once again.

Now we look forward to George Washington's Birthday and our February recess.

With the suspension of homework during the holidays, we now settle down once more to tackle our winter studies and exams.

Speaking of studies and exams, don't forget some important dates of exams coming up soon. The College Entrance Examination will be given at A. H. S. on Jan. 11, and the State Teacher's College Entrance Exam is held on Jan. 24.

On Friday, Dec. 20, the annual Christmas Assembly at the high school was held.

Carl Lind and Charles Sampson conducted the Bible readings and acted as Masters of Ceremonies.

The Girls' Choir and the Mixed Chorus performed singing their selections and leading the assembly in Christmas Carols.

The Junior Sextette sang "Christmas Night."

This group is composed of Linda Bretscher, Karen Nilson, Lois O'Neill, Judy Tibbets, Diane Thompson, and Sue Thompson.

The Harmonettes, who are Muriel Wennberg, Jean Marshall, Ann Vogel, Marilyn McLaughlin, Linda Lewis, and Cindie Rugg, performed along with Kitty Brittain, Ann Britton, and Connie Morrison.

The orchestra and entire program was under the direction of Mr. Einzig.

The Girls' Athletic Association initiated new members into the club last week in high style. The girls carried their books in shopping bags, wore strange outfits for dress, and thoroughly enjoyed the whole experience.

Don't forget to include the basketball game with Brookline and the Hockey game in which we set our sails against Rindge when you are planning your entertainment for the week-end.

Hockey Team Bows

Newton's high flying hockey team handed Arlington its second GBI loss at the Boston Arena Saturday by blanking the locals 3-0.

Newton scored its first goal at the two-minute mark of the first period and added two insurance tallies in the second stanza.

The victor's scoring power was done by three players, Ron O'Loughlin, Jim Leonard and Dave Craig. Each chalked up a goal and an assist.

Arlington's best scoring opportunity came in the second period.

A slap shot by Harry Howell hit the post to the left of the goalie and rebounded in front of the net. In attempting to smother the puck, the Newton goalie left the cage.

The locals had a loose puck and open net but two Newton men fell on the puck before the Red and Gray could capitalize.

The loss dropped Arlington into a fifth place tie with Belmont.

This Saturday, Arlington will face off against Rindge Tech at 3 p.m.

THE AMERICAN Gold Star Mothers, Arlington Chapter, NO. 31, had their annual Christmas party for members on Dec. 18th, at Gustie's in Cambridge. Fifteen mothers attended.

Track Team Wins

The Arlington high school track team won its first Metropolitan League meet Saturday, downing North Quincy 43-33.

In nine events, AHS captured six first places, bowing only in the 600 yard event. The locals scored a clean sweep in the 50 yard dash.

Stan Hutchinson took the mile in 5:07 with Fred Strachan in second place.

Dick McElligott and Harold Amoral placed first and second in the 300.

Ronnie Norris topped the shot putters with a 38-foot effort, and George Graci took the 1,000 yard run in 2:41.

Bob Golden, Frank McHugh and Bob Gazza swept the dash.

In the relay, Arlington's combine of Bob Golden, Dick McElligott, Harold Amoral and Bob Gazza won the event in 2:13.

Children's Programs

Robbins Library will present a full schedule of free children's programs Saturday, Jan. 4.

Story hours will be given at the Junior Library and at Dallin Branch at 10:30 a.m., and a concert of recorded music will be presented at East Branch at 10:00 a.m.

Tickets for the programs may be obtained free of charge at the Junior Library and the Branches.

AHS Basketball Team Wins Practice Tilts

The Arlington high school basketball team scored a clean sweep in its schedule of exhibition games at Browne and Nichols this week, dropping Browne and Nichols and Boston English.

Although last week's exhibition was merely for practice, the locals showed definite improvement.

Against Browne and Nichols, the locals jumped into a ten point lead at the end of the first period and held this margin at the half.

The A. H. S. attack cooled in the third period and B&N cut into the lead.

Midway through the final stanza the local lead had been shaved to three points.

Then quick baskets by Bill Scully and Capt. Jay Donovan gave Arlington breathing room. Immediately the attack began to jell again and the Red and Gray pumped in 22 points before the game's end.

Donovan and Scully led the scorers with 15 points each. Boston English provided less competition Friday.

The locals started slowly, scoring only four points in the first period.

Arlington hit its stride in the second period and poured in 12 points in the second and third stanzas.

Then the Lowdermen exploded for 27 points in the final period with Carl Lind and Jack Sefton spearheading the attack.

Lind was high scorer with 16 points, followed by Donovan with nine and Sefton with eight.

THE OLD PEATFIELD RESIDENCE which is now being torn down in a huge expansion program by Gordon's Furniture store. While well-known the house has no known historical significance. Under it and the adjacent parking lot will be a spacious underground showroom, doubling the present floor space to 10,000 sq. ft. Contractor is a local firm, Rugo Santini. The underground portion will be so constructed to allow the erection of a second story in the future. Presently the ground above will provide parking space for more than 40 cars. Million — A Deficit?

Our figures of last week — showing that a million dollars worth of new homes would only aid the tax rate by a mere 25 cents — have been contested by an interested and large taxpayer.

He contends that such a development of about 45 new homes with a guess of about 115 new school children would show a net loss!

Using the same figures in our last week's illustration, he claims we subtracted the cost of teaching these supposed 115 pupils (@ $290 each) at the wrong place. He suggests we should show that the new property would bring in yearly $22,680 in new revenue but that the school costs would be an increased expense of $34,500 — or a net loss of $11,820 annually.

Mathematically, our critic is absolutely right! However, figures and assumed propositions can be made to say anything.

At the outset of this, more or less, educational series on what is happening to our tax rate, we said we are not experts. Further, we have not all the facts. BUT we do not know anybody who is or does!

To our knowledge there is no official in this Town who can put a cost ticket on one new pupil. The easy way is to divide the School budget by the number of pupils. This, however, is too simple.

Obviously, the increase of the school population by one pupil would hardly affect the burden on an $18,000 per year superintendent and his administrative staff, or the heating and lighting bill.

Ninety-nine per cent of the time the new pupil might cost an additional penny or two.

Yet, suppose the new pupil caused the "breaking point" of a certain class in English. That is, if authorities set the figure of, say, 25 in a class as reasonably ideal and this class now has 30 pupils. At some point, whether it be 30, 31, or 35, it will finally be decided to break up the class into divisions with 15, 16 or 18 in each section.

Then, the cost of the single new pupil suddenly soars to between $2,500 and $3,500 — whatever a new teacher at his level of grade is paid.

And, at the farthest extreme, at some point the new child, even while still in the cradle, will cause a new million and a half dollar school to be built, plus a new teaching and maintenance staff. That child cost two million and an interest debt, possibly forever.

This gets around to the premise of our critic. By using his perhaps mathematically correct method would distort the picture far worse. Conceivably, an additional 115 pupils might cost only five or ten cents apiece, five or fifty dollars, or the $290 average, or possibly two million dollars.

Perhaps, just perhaps, we are wrong at the other extreme.

What would be needed to settle this academic question is an expert statistician, or a corps of them, to weigh this factor and that. Nobody in this world knows exactly what the present deficit of our National Government is, nor the State. Only the trends can be indicated.

We feel that we are on firm ground locally when we are trying to show that "a million dollars of new property" means pennies, not dollars on the tax rate.

Taxpayers, officials and Town Meeting members — all — are too prone to think of a new, so-called "million dollar development" as meaning a million dollars in the public coffers; that the tax rate will be helped by around ten dollars.

Until proven wrong, we believe that the tax rate will be helped by about twenty-six times less than that!

ABOUT 38 CENTS!!!

To repeat our last week's statement: this means that for every additional $80,000 the Town Meeting appropriates, almost three million dollars of new assessable property must be found to offset a rise in the tax rate!

TO THE STATE DEPARTMENT:

Want to prevent a war? Send a film of the New Year's Eve crowd in Times Square to the Kremlin. Nobody would be foolish enough to fight with a country containing that many lunatics.

That Man About Town

By MAT

The New Year is a good time to mention a subject — long on our minds.

We think the publicity for safer, teen-age driving over-emphasizes that "speed kills." Fact is, speed in itself hardly kills anybody except for a blowout. It is speed at the wrong times and conditions, speed by poor drivers that kills.

During school and college vacations, one cannot help to become convinced that most kids are just plain poor drivers. The trouble is all of them think they are the best on the pike. This combination of conceit and inexperience spells murder.

They frequently stall their motors. They make left-hand turns on the inside and right-hand turns on the outside. They don't know where their right fender is and swerve way out when passing. They do not estimate accurately the speed of an oncoming car. They go into a turn fast then put on the brakes, instead of going in slower and coming out with the power on. They can't park a car as well as some old lady. So to hide their lack of skill, they double park next to an open space.

We think it is possible to do something about it, locally. Any kid likes to excel, particularly in sports — to win a letter. Under the Driver Education dept. at the High School we suggest a series of tests be devised and "Knights of the Road" emblems be awarded: not sissy stuff but real challenging tests.

Few boys take Driver Education. Most are self-taught through observation. To enroll would be to become a "square." With a little imagination, a constructive and attractive program could be devised to make a modern Lochinvar out of a lousy, teen-age driver.

Let's face it. Down through the ages, young men have always devised methods of proving their fearlessness to attract some female even though death was the end result: wrestling with no holds barred, fighting bare-fisted, jousting tournaments, duels with swords or pistol, gang wars, clan feuds, the gladiators.

All this was good, clean while deadly sport. But it was youth vs. youth. The powerful car plus modern roads has made it youth vs. the child, the middle aged, and old alike!

Local Church—

During this week, the Council meets in business sessions to discuss the forthcoming annual summer convention; to plan for the work of all L. R. Y. departments; to hear the committee reports pertaining to planning and review, worship, service, by-laws, publications and high school and college youth activities.

Richard Teare of Cleveland, Ohio, president, presided at all business sessions.

Through the helpfulness of Miss Dorothy Greene, chairman of the Arlington Red Cross, coats and blankets were secured from Disaster Services.

Sleeping quarters for girls were assigned on the second floor of the new parish house, and the boys were bedded down in the vestry of the church.

"Brud" Faulkner, director of the Arlington Boys' Club, arrangements were made for the use of the shower and recreational facilities at the Boys' Club.

On Monday the entire group visited parts of historic Boston.

A tour was also held of the denomination headquarters of the Universalist Church of America and the American Unitarian Association at 16 and 25 Beacon st.

During the entire Council meeting the Rev. Leon C. Hopper, executive director for Liberal Religious Youth, was in attendance, as well as members of the Joint-Youth Activities Committee, composed of representatives from the Unitarian and Universalist denominations.

UNITARIAN NOTES

On Feb. 23ers' Sunday, Dec. 29, James S. Bonnell, Mrs. Louise G. Daries, Ernest Heseltnie, Lt. and Mrs. David M. Kaetzel, Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Kirkland, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Nobile, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Chester F. Protheroe, Mr. and Mrs. H. Ronald Rouse, Mrs. Marion Savio, Miss Amy E. Stone, and Mr. and Mrs. Egons Tons were accepted into church membership.

"An Evening on Snowboat" will entertain members of the Couples' Club on Saturday, Jan. 4. Supper will be served at 7 p.m.

The committee in charge consists of Mr. and Mrs. H. Baldwin, III; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Litchfield, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert K. Wallace.

Sailor Killed—

The car suddenly went out of control near the Burlington line and smashed into the tree.

Still on the danger list at the hospital is Leo J. Dunne, Jr., 17, of Somerville. Smith and the girl were riding in the front seat at the time of the accident. The other passengers were in the back.

Smith and Dunne were stationed at the Naval Training Center at Great Lakes, Ill.

Fun With Food—

She holds a degree in home economics from the University of West Virginia and has been an active member of the American Association of University Women and Association of Women's Club.

Judging by the tremendous reception accorded the program in other New England cities and towns it is expected that the Arlington Town Hall will be crowded for each presentation of "Fun With Food" next Monday, and Tuesday afternoon and Tuesday evening.

LAWMAKERS, civic groups and groups usually in back of progressive legislation have taken a cautious view of Gov. Foster Furcolo's second year outline for government. General opinion is to wait until the financial picture is clear. The Governor himself warned that new revenues are needed. Delay in paving the way for operation of the Massachusetts Port Authority was criticized and he also deferred action, for now, on post high school educational needs.

NAMED — Leonard R. Campbell of Ware was named by Gov. Furcolo and confirmed by the Council as a commissioner to qualify public officers.

CHANGES — With election of John F. Thompson (D) of Ludlow as Speaker of the House, Joseph D. Ward of Fitchburg and Daniel F. Leary of Milton are to be replaced as counsel to the legislative Committee at $6000 a year each. Former State Senator Albert S. Previte (D) of Lawrence will be chief counsel.

FOOTSAVING EDUCATION

By Herb Mason, owner of Mason's Shoes, Arlington center.

Would ill-fitting shoes affect a child's school work?

Common sense says, "Yes." If a teacher sent a child home with his hands tightly bound and complained that the child paid poor attention to classroom work we would be inclined to say "What do you expect?"

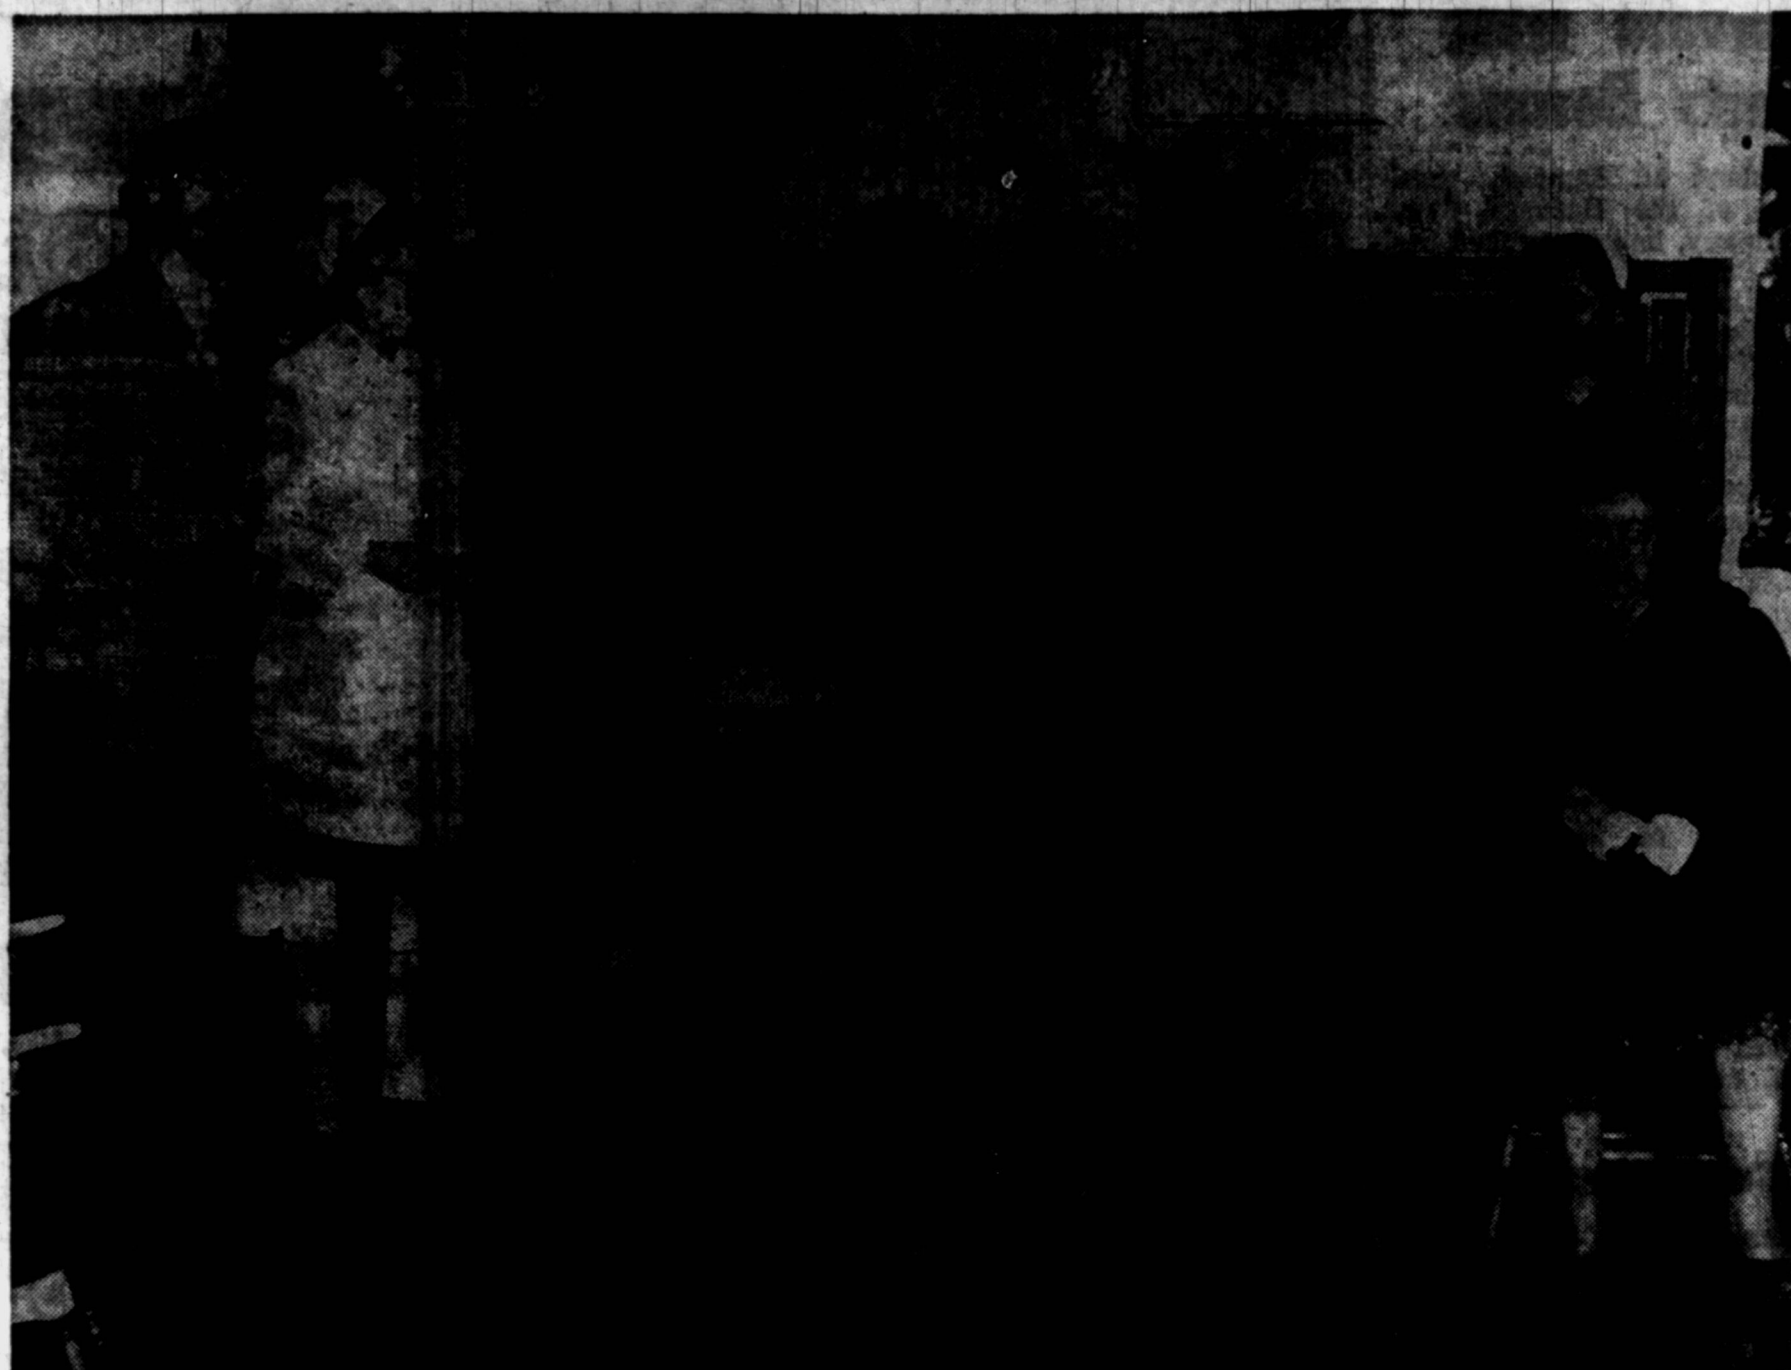

Surveys show that 2 out of 4 children are sent to school wearing shoes that cramp their feet. In one instance a teacher reported that after a child's shoes were refitted "she is a different person. She joins in the playground games instead of remaining in the room and her attitude toward her school work shows definite improvement."

I have been accused of worrying too much about the wrong end of the pupils but the foot-end may not be so far wrong.

Seek Programs To Aid Elderly

Greater emphasis on programs to improve the health, housing and economic security of older people was advocated by a vast majority of those responding to a questionnaire which the Audit of State Needs sent to several hundred community leaders throughout Massachusetts who are dealing with the problems of the aging.

Retired persons, as well as public and private officials dealing with the aged, were among the sample of persons responding to the Audit survey.

The Audit, a nonpartisan research agency set up at Gov. Furcolo's request to study the state's vital needs, made public the response to its survey today as part of its continuing analysis of the problems of older people.

Ninety-six percent of those replying felt that old age assistance and social security benefits were valuable in meeting with the problems of the state's half a million persons 65 and over.

Health and hospitalization services were next in importance, with 94 percent rating them as valuable governmental activities for older people. Public housing for the aging, and efforts to encourage social and recreational activities were third, with the support of 92 percent.

Nine of every ten questioned felt that efforts to encourage industry to employ the older worker should be pushed.

The Audit sampled the opinions of those in day-to-day contact with problems of the aging, in an effort to get a thorough sounding of practical viewpoints on the problems on which it will make recommendations to the Governor and the Legislature.

Strong support was given to all existing services to the aging by those answering the questionnaire, the Audit reported. The importance of health and housing programs was emphasized by retired persons themselves.

A retired construction engineer phrased it this way:

"Having a roof over your head for the rest of your life eases tensions and helps peace of mind and contentment." He added:

"To be old, alone and broke is bad enough. To be old, alone, broke, and sick is tragic."

The replies of many older persons reflected the economic pinch felt by the aging worker.

One made this suggestion: "The most valuable service to older people... would be to provide employment for them within their capacities in the organization with which they have been associated, whose routine is familiar to them and which probably includes the majority of their friends and acquaintances."

"A special department outside the assembly-line setup, one in which split-second timing is not demanded, where the old people could work on a part-time schedule if preferable, would be ideal."

Those taking part in the survey were asked to rate as "of great value," "of some value" or "of no value" ten programs for the aging. In no case was a service supported by less than 75 percent of those responding.

Questions asked related to programs for the training of doctors, nurses, and social workers in work for the aging, research in the field, extension courses specially planned for older people, further dissemination of information about the needs, problems and activities of older persons, vocational training and counseling of older workers, encouraging industry to employ older persons, as well as questions pertaining to the housing, health and welfare services.

Massachusetts ranks fourth among the 48 states in the proportion of the aging in its total population, the Audit pointed out. One in every 10 persons here is 65 or over. This is above the national average which finds every twelfth person in this age category.

about 90 local Councils for the Aging and numerous private groups are now concerned wholly or in part with needs of the older person. Concern for the aging person, is a relatively new field of state government, developed over the past eight years.

"Public interest in problems of the aging is virtually mandatory," the Audit added, "since every person is directly concerned. Services to the aging invade many fields, involving public agencies, private businesses, recreational and educational facilities and medical services."

The Audit is now preparing a special report to Governor Furcolo and the Legislature on the problems and needs of the aging in the Commonwealth, according to John Mallan, the Executive Secretary.
